

Infection Marker Panel - Sepsis Evaluation

Hospital: CriticalPath Labs

Patient Name: Quincy A. Miller

Age: 66

Attending Physician: Dr. Lucy Hammond

Medical Condition: Sepsis

Test Results:

Procalcitonin: 3.5 ng/mL (Reference Range: < 0.1 ng/mL)

CRP: 150 mg/L (Reference Range: < 10 mg/L)

WBC Count: 18,000 /uL (Reference Range: 4,000 - 11,000 /uL)

Lactate: 3.8 mmol/L (Reference Range: 0.5 - 2.2 mmol/L)

Sepsis Section 1:

This section provides detailed information regarding sepsis. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed.

Sepsis Section 1:

This section provides detailed information regarding sepsis. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed.

Sepsis Section 1:

This section provides detailed information regarding sepsis. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed.

Sepsis Section 1:

This section provides detailed information regarding sepsis. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed.

Sepsis Section 1:

This section provides detailed information regarding sepsis. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed. The clinical evaluation, diagnostic approach, and response to treatment are elaborated in full scope, highlighting variations observed.